

Köpcke-Anele Cooperation in Ship Supply

Anele S.A., supplying ship provision and technical equipment to foreign transit ships as well as Turkish flag vessels, has been assigned as the Turkish distribütör of Köpcke Holding, one of the biggest wholesaler of ship supply in Holland since 1872.

Anele general manager A. Vahit Şimşek said that their aim is to meet all the needs of ships from A to Z and to achieve this aim they made cooperation with Köpcke Holding "our establishment aim is to give service as a procurement ifrm and to make it in the European quality base. That's why we used the advantages of the Free Zone and built our transit warehouse in the Aegean Free Zone We started to take all our stock from this holding. The result of the given ship provisions and the increasing of the potential of service leadn to a serious cooperation between two companies.

Şimşek emphasized that they have 2000 various products and by taking orders they delivered the goods to the Turkish ports by their own efforts and added that their aim is to enrich the marine sector by various products. Also, the firm gives service in the field of ship maintenance and spare parts as well as stocking such and safety equipment in transit warehouses.

Şimşek pointed out that they give technical repair/maintenance services in engine room or deck with their experienced technical staff.

Moreover, he said that they targeted to make joint ventures and increase their potential in the Turkish marine sector and to enter other sectors for reaching new markets. In this framework, they started to take goods from Turkey to supply equipment at an appropriate price and export it to free zones and Holland. Thus they have supported Turkish goods opening into foreign markets.

Şimşek pointed out that the Holding in Holland in search the world's markets and present the quality product with the high best purchasing power, at an appropriate time as well as an appropriate price to its clients and he said that they will use the advantages of being a general representative to increase the capacity and service quality of their fields in Turkey.

Şimşek lastly emphasized that with this team and the agreement of General Distributor of Turkey they can reach the ISO quality standards wich is necessary fort he firms working in this sector and they started to work on it.
